Post Office Talk.

Judge D. McDonald Writes on Interesting Article.

EDITOR MOUNTAIN ADVOCATE:
I see in your last week's issue quite a number of applicants for the post-office at Barbourville, and one would infer from the list given that there was an abundance of postoffice timber in this county; for they are hatching out like spring chickens, but it seems that is premature, as it is over a year until the present incumbent's term expires; and we have noticed in early spring when chicks begin to hatch that in a dozen eggs there will be maybe one, or maybe not one lives to maturity. Some die in the shell in piping, some die with the gapes, while others may fall into the slop bucket, and others caught by hawks and hogs; but a little later in the season they may be more healthy and live to get the worm, and it is not always that the early bird gets it.

But as this is a Republican administration I suppose some Republican will get the office, and as a rule, it is given to one that has done most for the party. Now, I have nothing to say against any of the seven gentlemen who have applied, neither do I think that any of them have anything against me, but simply want my job.

But Mr. John M. Tinsley and Mr. T. J. Wyatt, both my friends, but neither of them have obeyed that injunction of scripture that says, "Go forth, multiply and replenish the earth." Neither of them ever had a son or daughter born to them to help swell the party in number; while Mr. Hemphill comes down from Artemus to ask for this favor, but he might do better selling flour than getting office, and Mr. Lewis is a good school teacher from Brush creek, and that is a good job, well followed, and Mr. Bretz is a pretty good butcher, and the people must have meat, and Mr. Catron, a school teacher, and the children must be taught, and last but not least, is Mr. D. W. Clark, from Scott County, Ky., who makes a good editor, and the people must have the MOUNTAIN ADVOCATE, the only paper in the county.

So you see that all of these gentlemen have good jobs and do not need the office quite so much as the present postmaster. You had just as well let the old man stay another term, and with thanks to the ADVOCATE for telling the people there is no complaint against the old man, though some might not say so much, yet there are two woes in the Bible that I am afraid of: One is woe unto him the world speaks well of—I mean the Democrats, of course—and the other is woe unto him that rises up early in the morning to follow strong drink until their eyes become inflamed, etc. I don't rise very early.

Now a few reasons why the present postmaster should be perpetuated in office. First, because he belongs to the largest Republican family in the county, there being more than one thousand voters of the relatives, and not a Democrat among them; second, because he has been able to raise the office from a fourth class to a presidential office; third, because he knows the patrons of the office and the patrons know him; fourth, because he has been at great expense in equipping the office as it is now; fifth, because he keeps the best assistant postmaster in the county in the person of Mr. E. J. Miller.

Hoping you all great success in everything but getting the office,

I beg to remain your friend,

D. McDonald.

A REPLY.

JUDGE McDONALD has said his castor into the contest for the Postmastership at this place, and has a very interesting article in to-day's issue.

He claims that he has more than 1,000 relatives who are voters in Knox county, and bases his claims upon the office upon this fact! No doubt he has all the relatives he claims, and perhaps more, but the good people of Knox county has twice elected him to the office of County Judge, the highest office in their power to bestow upon him. Then he was twice appointed as the postmaster of Barbourville, and when he served out his present term will have held the office eight years. If all of the Judge's relatives should hold office as long as the Judge, the other poor people would wait a long time for a political job.

He recites the various callings of his opponents and gives us credit with being a good editor, for which we thank him most kindly for the compliment, but will say that if we should be so fortunate as to secure the position we will continue to edit the MOUNTAIN ADVOCATE so that the people of Knox county will not thus be deprived of the paper.

But we remember that Judge McDonald was once regarded as a good Methodist preacher, and as the ministry is regarded as the highest calling that comes to poor, trail-blazing, we think it a great pity to spoil a good preacher to make a postmaster, therefore, we do not feel inclined to withdraw from the fight, but insist that Bro. McDonald should lend his influence and support, which is a powerful one in this country to a poor, humble newspaper editor who has battled for years to keep the wolf from the door of a darling wife and three dependent children.

VALUABLE PRESENT

Received by John A. Black From Jerusalem.

Mr. John A. Black received a few days ago something unique, and at the same time interesting, and which is prized by him as very valuable.

It was a small registered package from the City of Jerusalem, sent on December 31, 1904, by H. Linenberg.

It is a small album about 4x7 inches and contains some fifteen or twenty leaves. On every leaf is a flower design stamped in the page from the real flowers, which still retains their natural color, and the description shows from where they came. Some are from Mount of Olives, Rachael's Tomb, Lebanon, and many other biblical historical points. The descriptions are printed in Hebrew, French and English. The covers are made of original olive wood and are about one-eighth of an inch in thickness, and the entire work is neatly bound in handsome morocco.

Mr. Black was surprised to receive it and says that he has no recollection of ever seeing or hearing of the donor, but he values the present very highly and takes delight in showing it to his friends. He keeps it in the vault at the bank where it is safe, and he would hardly place a money value upon it.

WHY DELAY

In Erecting the New Court-House When It Can be Done at so Small A Cost.

The matter of cost has frequently come up in the discussing the new Court-house proposition, and we have never been able to give an entirely satisfactory answer in regard to the price. We have taken pains to make some little inquiry concerning these matters, and we have been told that the new Court-house at London cost the tax-payers of Laurel county the sum of $16,000.

Now think of that! They have a court-house there that is a credit to the county, and would be a credit to our county here if we had one as good, and yet they were only at an expense of $16,000, and they have all their papers secured in vaults safe from the ravages of the flame should it come, while we are exposed to its ravages with no protection whatever. Besides they have ample room for all purposes, while we have no room for any purpose.

In fact, there is no comparison between the conveniences of the two buildings.

The people of Laurel county any more worthy and deserving of a good, substantial court-house than the people of Knox? We think not. We believe that the very best that we could afford is none too good for Knox county citizens, and we know that they are abundantly able to build for this county a court-house that would be on a par with the best in the country, and possibly exceed any of the adjoining counties.

Why sit back and have every point the finger of scorn at our old court-house and say, "That is the most dilapidated, out of date court-house to be found anywhere in the mountains."

We wish it was otherwise and we feel that we voice the sentiment of the people when we say that we must improve the situation by erecting a new building to take the place of the present one.

J. TAYLOR BYRLEY.

Last Saturday morning about 4:30 o'clock the Angel of Death invaded the home of one of our oldest and most beloved citizens and claimed the spirit of Mr. J. Taylor Byrley as his victim.

For the past month Mr. Byrley has been in ill health, and while his death was not unexpected, the blow was none the less severe.

J. Taylor Byrley was born in Knox county, December 5, 1825, and was in the 80th year of his age at the time of his death.

Fifty-seven years ago he was married to Miss Polly Ann Disney, who survives him. To this union were born three sons and six daughters, of which two sons and four daughters survive, viz: W. W. Byrley, sheriff of Knox county, and also chairman of the Eleventh Congressional District Republican Committee; John H. Byrley, of Cincinnati; Mrs. J. T. Berry, Mrs. J. S. Cole, Mrs. H. C. Cole and Mrs. Valentine.

Mr. Byrley in early life was a strong and active man, and was power in politics; he was at one time jailer of this county.

He was a devout member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and was a constant attendant upon all the means of grace. Realizing that he could not recover from his last illness he expressed himself as being prepared to die, and said he "wanted to go home."

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon by his pastor, Rev. T. B. Stratton, assisted by Rev. J. P. Faulkner, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Barbourville cemetery to rest from all sorrows and watchings and fears, Rest from all possible sighing and tears; Rest through God's endless, wonderful years, At home with the blest."

MRS. SALLIE EVE.

Mrs. Sallie Eve, widow of the late William Eve, died at Corbin last Saturday morning at an early hour and the remains were brought to the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Riddell in this city, on Saturday afternoon, and on Sunday afternoon after the funeral services were conducted at the residence by Rev. T. B. Terhune, of the Presbyterian church, was borne to the Barbourville cemetery, and with gentle hands was laid to rest.

Mrs. Eve was formerly a resident of this city and was known and loved by all the citizens of the town.

The burial took place at the same hour as that of Mr. Byrley, and was the scene of the first double funeral ever witnessed in the local cemetery here.

BOLTON.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. John Bolton, that was born Friday night and died Saturday morning, was buried Sunday morning in the local cemetery, thus making three burials in the cemetery on one day, the first time such occurrence has ever transpired here.

The Old Homestead Law.

The overthrow of the old homestead law and the substitution of a 640-acre homestead is being rapidly consummated, so far as the change can be pushed along by the Public Lands Committee of the House. That body voted the other day to recommend the passage of a square mile homestead bill as applied to eight or ten million acres of land in western South Dakota, although a minority of the committee, consisting of Chairman Lacey and Representatives Mondell, of Wyoming, Miller, of Kansas, and Neenan, of California, will, it is understood, bring in a separate report against the bill. The committee will take up succeeding bills applying the square mile homestead to other States. This report of the committee was made in the face of a strong adverse recommendation from the Commissioner of the General Land Office and the Secretary of the Interior. The Commissioner pointed to the fact that a similar bill was enacted last year for western Nebraska lands "as an experiment," and he stated that sufficient time had not elapsed to warrant any conclusion whatever favorable to the Nebraska or Kinkaid law.

In speaking of this action the House of Public Lands Committee, Senator Gibson, member of the Public Lands Committee of the Senate, said: "No more dangerous or injurious measure than this square mile homestead scheme, a prominent member of Congress, has of late proposed. An attractive idea, with enthusiastic support who desire to secure large areas of agricultural land, I regard it as a most dangerous of legislation."

In speaking of this action the House of Public Lands Committee, Senator Gibson, member of the Public Lands Committee of the Senate, said:

The absorption of our public lands into great private holdings is going on under our present laws at railroad speed, but this plan to permit a man to take up a square mile of land is to my mind a little short of iniquitous. It would condemn much of our finest agricultural lands in the northwest, capable of growing crops and supporting families on small tracts, to perpetual stock grazing. Nor would it result in 640 acre stock ranches. This square mile unit is too much land for a man to farm and too little for him to successfully raise stock upon. The result would be that in one way or another, the land would be concentrated into big holdings, very effectively preventing settlement.

Unless a strong sentiment is developed in opposition to this bill, it is likely to quietly slip through Congress, so slight is the interest manifested by Eastern members in the question of the great agricultural domain of the country. There seems to be no hope for the development of real farming."

It is admitted at the Capitol that to secure the enactment of a general law allowing homestead entries of a square mile would be impossible; but it is expected to take up the question, State by State, one State having already been granted the right, and to secure the legislation piecemeal. WHAT DO YOU THINK?

With to-day's issue the ADVOCATE starts out upon the second year of its existence. Although it was freely predicted that it would not continue for more than six months. We have stood the storms and battled through one year, and our prospects are brighter to-day for the next twelve months than it was one year ago, for twelve months through which we have just passed.

We want to thank all those who have placed confidence in the paper and contributed toward its support, and assure them that it is our purpose to continue in the work to publish a good newspaper. We trust that there will be no delay in the renewals, but that they will come in promptly and renew for the ensuing year.

It is not our purpose to "dun" anyone, but as we have faithfully kept our part of the obligation with all during the past year and we believe that we have more than given the amount to each one, that they will not delay for another year.

Curiously hate to pencil one who has been a r a year, and we do all the old and secure nes. So come along and and see to it that your neighbor subscribe, and let's all together to make the coming more profitable than the past.

REE SEEDS AND CHICKEN FEED.

Senator Lodge used some plain and emphatic language the other day in discussing the free seed business, but we are inclined to think he was just about right. He said the yearly distribution of free seeds was regarded by the people as a huge joke. He said it was an expensive joke and a sheer waste of the public money. He said it would be about as logical to send out free watches or other commodities to the people who want them more than they want seeds. Whatever justification the free seeds business may have had in the inception, because of certain valuable aims, it has none now, because those aims have either been abandoned or are being better fulfilled in some other way.

Two points were raised in reply to Senator Lodge and in defense of the system. One was that "rare and valuable" seeds were being distributed, which could thus be tested for practical use in different parts of the country. That we believe to be chiefly an error. Most, if not all, the seeds distributed are of "common or garden varieties," or are such as can be obtained from any up-to-date seedsman. So far as the experimental use of new or rare varieties is concerned, it can be done far better at the official agricultural experiment stations. That is what those experiment stations are for. The other point was that the system should be continued because the people in some States liked it, and the Senators and Representatives wanted to keep on pleasing their constituents. Doubtless many people do like it, and doubtless it increases a Congressman's popularity for him to send each year a package of seeds to each of his constituents, especially to those who party loyalty is not secure; but we cannot see why the national Treasury should be taxed to help pay any man's electioneering expenses.

We are glad to see that Massachusetts and Texas, though so different in most respects, are agreed upon this matter. Senator Bailey supported Senator Lodge with the pertinent and effective suggestion that there was no more reason for the government's giving farmers free seeds than for it giving them tree implements. No, nor for giving them tree implements. No, nor for giving them free clothes and food and all other supplies. A somewhat caustic but quite judicious friend observes that these free seeds, properly selected and combined, make excellent chicken feed. We have no doubt of it.

But why should the government show such partiality for the poultry business? Why not also let us have free hay and oats for our horses and free gasoline for our automobiles?

If we are going to have a paternal government of that sort, do let papa treat all the boys alike.—Tribune Farmer.

There are oftentimes when it is an act of charity to help those who are in need, while at other times it is a curse. We are glad to know that we have in town an organization for the exclusive purpose of investigating and helping those who are actually worthy of assistance.

The attention of Mr. England, the chairman of this organization, was called to a particular case of a poor widow, with two small children, last week who was in need of assistance. He at once solicited among his friends, and in a few moments had secured about $6.00 with which he purchased provisions and sent out, and also secured medicine for her. Such acts of kindness will surely be rewarded in the world to come.

Correspondence.

Bailey's Switch.

Rather cold weather up here—12 degrees below zero.

Bud Bowling paid this place a pleasant visit last Saturday.

Mrs. J. R. Bailey has been down with the grip, but is better at this writing.

Mr. E. S. Troper lost a fine gold watch Saturday night between Bailey's Switch and home. Watch has three raised gold ornamental horse heads on lid, and one head pea green color. Finder will confer a great favor by returning same to John R. Bailey's store.

W. B. Willis lost a fine mustache last Sunday morning. Finder will please return same and receive a liberal reward.

Sunday, February 12, Bro. Israel went to the mountain and built there an altar, and requested Bro. Billie not to interfere. Now, did you Billie?

Although leap year has gone Bro. Thomas Dizney had quite a unique proposal a few days ago. "Would he say? He's had the grip ever since.

Some one please tell Bill Bailey's girl he couldn't come Sunday.

X. RAYS.

Now, boys, at the beginning of this year resolve to do better and repent of your evil doings before it is too late. You do not know but that you will be brought to a short stop, for God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform, and may be brought in a very mysterious way to repent, and perhaps then it will be too late.

I will relate a little story as an illustration of how God moves toward those that will not repent of their sins. Once upon a time there was an old man and his three sons living in a certain village; the whole family was very wicked, and all the advice that was given to them was received with derision and blasphemy. The good old preacher that lived in the village tried all he could to bring them to repent of their doing, but they made light of the good old man. Well, pretty soon one of the wicked boys, Frank, was bitten by a rattlesnake and was about to die, so the old man went to the good old preacher and told him that his son, Frank, was bitten by a rattlesnake and wanted him to come and pray for him. The preacher went with the man into the room where Frank was dying; he spoke to the boy thus: "Well, Frank, you know you are dying!" Frank answered very feebly "Yes." Well, have you repented of your sins?" The answer was "Yes." Then the good old man told them all to come into the room and kneel down with him for he was going to pray. They all knelt down and he began his prayer. "O Lord, as Frank is dying and has repented, please forgive him; and now O Lord, I thank thee for the rattlesnake, and I thank thee that thou hast sent one to bite Frank. O Lord send one to bite Ben and one to bite Blakeman. O Lord I ask thee in a special manner to send a thundering big one to bite the old man, for there is nothing but a rattlesnake that can bring them to repentance.

Hammond.

Well, well, here comes Wild Bill again.

We have had lots of bad weather for the past two weeks.

Rev. William Carnes was here last week and preached several able sermons.

John W. Messer visited friends here last week.

Noah Mills visited friends at this place last week.

J. Edwards, of this place, is able to 'e out again after several weeks illness. We are glad to see you out again, Mr. Edwards.

John Hubart, of this place, has been rabbit hunting for three weeks, and never brought in a single rabbit.

Marsh Braughton has been preaching for a long time, and has never received any compensation therefor until the other day, when Henry Hinkle gave him the old Joe Hammans' leggins. He wants to know who keeps a bradding machine so he can braid them together.

Success to the MOUNTAIN ADVOCATE and its many readers.

WILD BILL.

Knox Fork.

comes Rose again.

V. C. Judd filled his regular appointment at this place Saturday. Sleights are the order of the day here now.

A heavy snow visited this section Sunday and Monday night.

Miss Rebecca Price, who has been attending school at London, returned home Saturday last.

Will some one please tell "M. S. P." where Charley Cartt is?

E. C. McGee, of Boreing, passed through a few days ago buying up chickens and eggs.

Willie McDonald and wife have been on the sick list this week.

H. H. Donaldson, of Gray, was at this place the latter part of the week on business.

T. C. Parrott says he has a tender place in his heart for coons.

W. A. Donaldson is contemplating a trip to Knoxburg before long.

Yours in a run,

ROSE.

Ola, Ky.

The weather the past two weeks has been remarkably cold.

Oscar Jones and Dock Adams have returned from Astor, N. C., and report a nice time.

Reverend officers of Wise County, Va., came down last week and made a raid in the Cumberland mountains, where they destroyed an illicit distillery and about 3,000 gallons of beer. They caught two or the operators—Sally Boggs and Thurston Pallard. We think it would be much better if the people of the grand old fourth division would quit the liquor traffic and make their money in some legitimate and safer way.

Burdine Webb, a new correspondent, left Monday for Norton, Va., where he will be employed by Uncle Sam for the next few months.

News has just been received here to the effect that Ambrose Tyler, of the head of Frank's creek, had the misfortune during the recent cold spell of getting his barn burned. The barn contained a considerable quantity of hay and corn, besides two horses which were also burned up. How the fire originated is unknown.

The ice on the rivers at this place has been fine for the past week, and the young people have enjoyed themselves hugely skating.

The revenue gang raided on the Upper Pound last week and destroyed a wholesale outfit and captured two men.

The report that deputy Francis Blair had been shot in a battle on Bull creek, in the southern part of the county, was unfounded.

We learn that A. B. Munsey, who is now in the panhandle of Texas, writes back that he is having fine health, and that if he can get the cancer on his lips cured, for which he is taking special treatment, which is proving successful, he will be all right. Mr. Munsey has many personal friends in this county, who earnestly hope for his speedy recovery.

We are all so busy skating that we hardly have time to write to the Advocate, and if we had the time, the boys are too busy to make news for us to write about.

Born, to the wife of Charles H. Payne, a 9-pound Democrat. S. E. Hammons says he can beat that, for he has a 10-pound boy, and it is a Republican.

ARCHIE.

Institute Notes.

Our enrollment is now 228, and still new ones are being placed on our books.

J. L. Wilson, of Bell county, came in last week and began work with us.

The gold medal has been secured for the contest on February 22d, so "hustle" up, boys and girls, on your declinations and recitations. The medal is a beauty, consisting of a pretty vase encircled with a golden wreath. It deserves your best efforts.

Owing to the crowded condition of the school, Prof. Pitman has moved the Department of Finance and Commerce to other quarters.

We desire to say to the public that the lecture on February 1st was success, financially speaking, as it paid out about $31.00 and this secures for the school $30.00 worth of standard books. When the books come, you are entitled to come and see them.

Don't forget the next lecture of the Library Course. It will be on March 1st, by Dr. Boyle, of Atlanta, Ga. His subject will be "The Seen and the Unseen."

The next lecture of the course will be delivered by Mr. Peck, on the subject "Funny Side of Life."

About the close of school the Fays' Buss orchestra will visit us.

Students, don't forget the retiring touch put on a part of the college interior by Miss Beaumont. It should make you feel better, it should make you want to black your shoes a little better, and instill a desire in each of us to keep neater while about the college building. The studio is nicely fitted up and let us appreciate this fact.
